A: No, I don't.

Listening 2  12 At lunchtime, Martin meets Nabila Habib in the UBCS cafeteria. Read and listen to the first part of their conversation. Note down three things that Nabila does every day.

Nabila: Hello, you're new, aren't you?

Martin: Yes, I am.

Nabila: Welcome to UBCS. My name's Nabila.

Martin: Pleased to meet you. I'm Martin.

Nabila: So, do you like your new job?

Martin: I don't know yet. In fact, this is only my first day.

Nabila: Oh, right, sorry! This is my first year. I'm a cashier.

Martin: Oh, great! Maybe you can tell me more about being a cashier. What do you do every day?

Nabila: Well, I come to work at 8.30. The bank opens at 9.00. I help customers deposit money and withdraw money from their accounts. Sometimes I answer questions about products and services. Other times I check balances for customers. Oh, and I also help my boss. He opens new accounts for customers and talks to them about investments. I give customers information about our interest rates and help them with forms, that sort of thing.

Language

Present simple

What do you do every day?	I come to work at 8.30. She helps them with forms.
We often use adverbs of frequency (e.g. always, usually, often, sometimes, never) and other time expressions (e.g. every day, in the morning) with the present simple. The adverbs come before the verb. Time expressions come at the beginning or end of the sentence.	He opens new accounts in the morning. They always come to work at 8.30. In the evening, I check my balance online. We pay by cheque every month.
In affirmative sentences, we add -s or -es in the third person singular (he, she, it).	He watches the financial news every morning. She sometimes pays in cash.

3 Match the two halves of the sentences. Do you do these things every day?

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1 She comes to work | a) new accounts for customers. |
| 2 She checks | b) at 9.00. |
| 3 Her boss opens | c) at 8.30. |
| 4 The bank opens | d) balances for customers. |
| 5 Customers come to the bank | e) about interest rates. |
| 6 She gives the customers information | f) and deposit or withdraw money. |

Writing 4 Write sentences about the things in the box in 1 that you do every day.

Example: I get up every day at 6.30. I have a shower at 6.45. I have lunch from 12.30 to 1.30.

Listening 5 13 Listen to the second part of Martin and Nabila's conversation. Tick (✓) the things they talk about.

- 1 what they do at lunchtime 3 what they do in the evening
2 how they get to work 4 what they do at the weekend

6 Listen again and complete these sentences with the words in the box.

always never often sometimes (x2) usually (x3)

- 1 Nabila _____ finishes work at 5.00.
- 2 She _____ stays late.
- 3 She _____ gets home before 7.30.
- 4 She _____ walks to work.
- 5 Martin _____ goes shopping on Saturday morning.
- 6 He _____ plays football in the afternoon.
- 7 He and his friends _____ go to the cinema.
- 8 He _____ watches TV.

Jobs in banking

Banks offer many different jobs, from trainee cashier right up to senior account manager or investment analyst. Many jobs are in specialist areas such as IT or corporate banking – accounts for business customers. Some banks have call centres where customer service advisers answer telephone enquiries. In the UK today, building societies, insurance companies and even supermarkets can offer the same services as banks. There is a lot of competition, so banks always need top-quality staff with good communication skills.

Training and opportunities

Trainees with basic school qualifications usually process cheques and do administrative tasks. They then take a training course to become cashiers. Good cashiers often become supervisors, responsible for their own teams of employees.

Graduate trainees have a fast-track training course. They usually spend about two years learning how the bank works. Then they can get management positions.

Branch managers spend a lot of time with customers and sometimes visit business customers in their office or factory.

Working conditions

Working hours are usually 9 am to 5 pm. Most banks have an annual appraisal system and give salary increases according to performance. Some also have good pension schemes. Larger banks have sports facilities for activities such as golf and tennis.

Speaking 7 Work in pairs. Take turns to ask and answer the questions in 6.

What can you do?

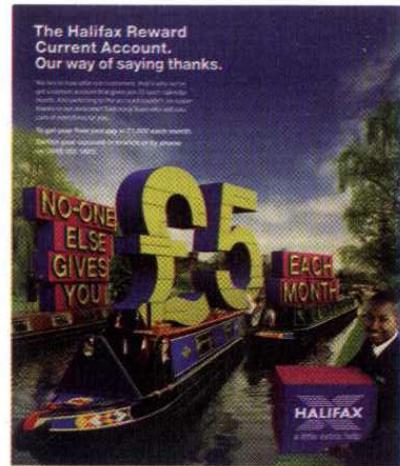

Speaking

- 1 How do banks attract new customers? Discuss in pairs. Use the words in the box.

advertisements free gifts
interest rates special offers

Reading

- 2 Read this article. Then choose the best summary.

NEW CUSTOMERS ONLY!

Banks always want to get new customers and so they make attractive offers: new customers can get higher interest rates on savings accounts for the first six months, there are no arrangement fees on new mortgages, people who open a new current account get a free gift. However, these special offers are usually limited to 'new customers only' – which often appears in the small print at the bottom of their advertisements and makes existing customers angry. Why are all the best offers, the best products, the best interest rates for 'new customers only'?

In a TV advertisement for the Nationwide Building Society in the UK, an existing customer goes into a bank and asks for several of the attractive products and services the bank offers. Each time, the bank employee tells him he can't have what he wants because it is for 'new customers only'. He leaves the bank and goes to the Nationwide Building Society where the special offers are for all customers. This advertisement suggests that banks need to take customer care seriously and treat all customers the same. The clever business strategy is not just to attract new customers, but to keep the ones you already have.

- 1 The article is about the way banks treat new and existing customers differently. It suggests that existing customers are just as important as new customers.
- 2 The article is about the products and services banks offer to customers. It says that people go from bank to bank and look for the best special offers.
- 3 Use the words and expressions in the box to complete the definitions 1–6.

arrangement fee attractive free gift limited small print special offer

- 1 An _____ is a sum of money you usually have to pay the bank when you take out a mortgage.
- 2 A _____ is a present. You don't have to pay for it. A company gives it to you as a thank-you for buying their product or service.
- 3 Something which is _____ to one group of people is something which people outside that group can't have.
- 4 Something which is _____ is something that people want to have. The word is also used to describe people who look nice.
- 5 A _____ is something a company uses to get new customers. It could be a price reduction, two products for the price of one, a better interest rate, a free gift, etc.
- 6 _____ is text in tiny letters, often at the bottom of an advertisement. Because it is small and difficult to read, companies hope their customers won't notice it. It usually contains bad news.

Language

can / can't

We use can + infinitive without to talk about something we are able to do generally ... or, at this moment.	I can drive
In negative sentences, we use the short form (can't) more often than the full form (cannot).	She can't serve this customer right now.
In questions and short answers:	A: Can new customers have a free gift? B: Yes, they can . / No, they can't .

- 4 Read the text from 2 again. Complete these sentences with can or can't.
- 1 A customer who opens a new current account _____ get a free gift.
 - 2 New customers _____ get better interest rates on their savings accounts.
 - 3 Existing customers _____ have the special offers because they are for new customers only.
 - 4 The 'new customers only' policy _____ make existing customers angry.
 - 5 The customer in the advertisement _____ have what he wants because he isn't a new customer.

- 5 Write questions and short answers using can or can't.

Example: I Can you speak Japanese? (X) No, I can't.

- 1 you speak / Japanese? (X)
- 2 buy / a flat / Rafiq and Selma? (✓)
- 3 Karl / on investments / get advice? (✓)
- 4 any special offers / you get / at your bank? (X)
- 5 Marvin / buy a car? (X)
- 6 Rafiq and Selma / from Selma's parents / borrow money? (✓)
- 7 interest rate / get a better / they? (X)

Speaking

- 6 Add two more things to the table. Tick (✓) if you can do these things and cross (X) if you can't. Work in pairs. Take turns to ask and answer questions using can and can't. Complete the table for your partner.

A: Can you speak Arabic?

B: Yes, I can.

You	Your partner
Speak Arabic?
Drive?
Ride a horse?
Use a computer?
Play the piano?

Writing

- 7 Write three sentences about what you and your partner can and can't do. Use the information in 6.

Example: Shilpi and I can both drive. I can play the piano, but Shilpi can't. Neither of us can ride a horse.

What can banks give to customers?

Listening 1  Listen to Peter talking to his colleague, Marwan. Which products and services in the box do they mention?

cheques credit card current account debit card interest rate
loans and mortgages online banking savings account safe deposit box

2 Listen again and complete these sentences.

- 1 A _____ account is for paying everyday bills and expenses.
- 2 A _____ account is sometimes called a deposit account.
- 3 The bank pays the customer _____ on a savings account?
- 4 You can tell customers that at the moment the interest _____ for savings accounts is three percent.
- 5 I can also offer new customers a _____ card.
- 6 I can show them how the _____ works.
- 7 Customers also often ask about _____ banking.
- 8 You can tell them the interest rates on _____ and mortgages.

Reading 3 Read the rest of Marwan and Peter's conversation. Are sentences 1–6 true (T) or false (F)?

Peter: Oh, Marwan, one more thing. What about credit cards?

Marwan: Well, we don't automatically give credit cards to new customers.

Peter: So are they just for existing customers?

Marwan: No, but we know that our existing customers are good with money. We see their salaries come into their current account every month. We know how much money they have in their deposit accounts. We are usually happy to give them credit cards. With new customers it's a bit different. We don't have any information about them. So, they can apply for a credit card and we then check their credit rating with a credit agency. If the credit agency gives them a good rating, we can give them a credit card. At first, there is a low spending limit on the card. They can only use the card up to a certain amount of money. Later, we can increase that limit.

Peter: When they show that they are responsible customers?

Marwan: That's right.

- 1 The bank doesn't give credit cards to existing customers. (T / F)
- 2 The bank doesn't have a lot of information about new customers. (T / F)
- 3 New customers can't get credit cards. (T / F)
- 4 Customers with a good credit rating can have credit cards. (T / F)
- 5 The spending limit on a credit card can change. (T / F)
- 6 Good customers have a higher spending limit on their credit cards. (T / F)

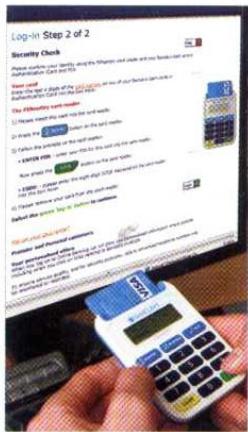

Vocabulary 4 Put a cross (X) next to the word(s) that you can't use with the word in bold.

- | | | | | |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|---|----------------------------------|---------|
| 1 <input type="checkbox"/> currency | <input type="checkbox"/> deposit | <input type="checkbox"/> savings | <input type="checkbox"/> current | account |

| 4 <input type="checkbox"/> credit | <input type="checkbox"/> cash | <input type="checkbox"/> debit | <input type="checkbox"/> loan | card |

Speaking 5 Where can you use your credit card? Where can't you use it? Work in pairs and discuss. Give two or three examples using can / can't + the present simple.

Example: I can pay for food with my credit card at the supermarket. I can't use it at some restaurants.

Reading

6 Read this dialogue. Number the sentences in the correct order.

- Peter: Good morning, Mr Osman. How can I help you today?
- Mr Osman: OK, I understand. How long will it take to get my user ID and password?
- Mr Osman: I'm interested in online banking. I'm very busy, so it's difficult to come into the bank all the time when I want to pay bills or check my balance.
- Peter: Only a few days. As soon as you get this information, you can log in and start banking online.
- Mr Osman: When do I need to use my user ID?
- Mr Osman: Can I check my balance at any time?
- Peter: I understand. Well, online banking is really easy and convenient. First, you need to register. You can do this online – just go to our website, click on 'online banking' and complete the form. We then send you a user ID and password. You can change the password at any time.
- Mr Osman: That's great. Thanks for your help.
- Peter: You need to type in this number to log on to your account. Most people change their password to something they can remember easily. It's important not to share your password with anyone – for security reasons.
- Peter: Yes, of course. You can check your balance, look at your account information, pay bills and do most of the other things you do now at the bank.
- Peter: You're very welcome. Please let me know if you need any other assistance.

Listening 7 Listen and check your answers to 6.

8 Match 1–6 to a–f to make sentences about Mr Osman.

|---|---|
| 1 Mr Osman can't go to the bank every day | a) for online banking on the bank's website. |
| 2 When Mr Osman starts online banking, | b) when he gets his user ID and password. |
| 3 Mr Osman can register | c) to something he can remember easily. |
| 4 He can start online banking | d) until he registers. |
| 5 He can change his password | e) because he is very busy. |
| 6 He can't start online banking | f) he can check his balance and make payments online. |

Customer service

- Speaking 1 When you use a bank, what is more important to you: the people who deal with you or the services they offer? Work in pairs and discuss.
- Reading 2 Read this memo. Which comments are about the people at the bank (P) and which are about the products and services (PS)? Mark each sentence 1–6 P or PS.

memo

Customer power

Most banks offer similar products and services. So why do customers choose one bank rather than another? Read what the customers in our bank survey say:

- 1 'I look for lower service charges. I don't want to pay high charges to my bank.'
- 2 'I use my bank because the interest rates on their savings accounts are higher than those in other banks.'
- 3 'I don't like inefficient service. Bank transactions need to be easier and faster.'
- 4 'I choose my bank by how polite the cashiers are. The cashiers at my old bank were quite rude. I use another bank now and the cashiers are much more polite.'
- 5 'The location of the branch is important to me. There are too many banks in the centre of town. They need to have branches in more convenient locations.'
- 6 'I do my banking by telephone now. The employees I talk to are friendlier and more efficient and I like that.'

Language

Comparative adjectives

We use comparative adjectives to compare two people or things.

For short adjectives, we add -er (than) .	Our interest rates are higher than yours.	Trainee cashiers are slower than experienced cashiers.
For long adjectives, we use more (than) .	These chairs are more comfortable than those.	Banks that open on Saturdays are more convenient than those that don't.
Notice the spelling:	big → bigger (double the consonant) friendly → friendlier (change y to i and add -er)
Irregular forms:	good → better (than) bad → worse (than) far → farther (than)

- 3 Read the memo from 2 again. Underline the comparative adjectives.

- Writing 4 Use the information from this customer survey to write six sentences.

Example: The ATMs at UBCS are easier to use than those at Benhams Bank.

Does the bank have ...	UBCS	Benhams Bank
easy to use ATMs?	✓✓✓	✗
efficient cashiers?	✓✓✓	✓✓
friendly employees?	✓✓	✓✓✓
low service charges?	✓✓	✗
high interest rates?	✗	✓

Language
Present continuous

We can use the present continuous to talk about something that is happening now, at exactly this moment. We often use it with time words and phrases like now, right now, or at the moment.

We use the form am / is / are + -ing.

I'm / am serving a customer at the moment.

He's / is buying some currency.

She isn't / is not talking on the phone right now.

What are they doing?	A: Is he serving a customer?
	B: Yes, he is. / No, he isn't.

- 2 Look at the picture again and match these questions to the correct answers.

Customer: In tens and twenties, please.

Language

Polite language

We use Can / Could you + infinitive without to when we ask somebody to do something for us.

Could you ...? is more formal and polite than Can you ...?

Can you fill in this form, please? (less polite)

Could you fill in this form, please? (more polite)

We use would like + to-infinitive to say that we want to do something.

Would like is a polite way of saying 'I want'. The short form is ''d like'.

I want to transfer some money. (less polite)

I would ('d) like to transfer some money. (more polite)

We use can or may when we ask for permission.

Many people think that may is more polite than can.

Can I have your name, please? (less polite)

May I have your name, please? (more polite)

Can I sit here, please? (less polite)

May I sit here, please? (more polite)

4 In which dialogue in 3 is the cashier less polite?

5 Match the cashier's questions 1–6 to the customer's replies a–f.

- 1 Could I have your name, please?
 - 2 How can I help you?
 - 3 Would you like to speak to the manager?
 - 4 May I ask how much you would like to withdraw?
 - 5 Would you like that in pounds or euros?
 - 6 Could you fill in this form, please?
- a) Of course. Do you have a pen?
b) Yes, please. Is she available?
c) Certainly. It's Blanka Novakova.
d) I'd like to open an account, please.
e) 500 euros, please.
f) In pounds, please.

Writing 6 Rewrite these sentences to make them more polite.

- 1 Who do you want to speak to?
- 2 Do you want to withdraw some money?
- 3 I want to cash a cheque.
- 4 Can I have 500 euros, please?
- 5 What currency do you want?
- 6 How much do you want of each currency?
- 7 What's your account number, please?
- 8 What's your name?

Listening 7  Listen and underline the stressed words in each sentence 1–5. Then listen again and repeat the sentences.

- 1 Would you like that in dollars or in pounds?
- 2 I'd like to open an account, please.
- 3 May I have your name and account number, please?
- 4 Could you fill in this form, please?
- 5 I'd like to transfer some money, please.

Speaking 8  Work in pairs. Listen and then roleplay the dialogue. Take turns to be the customer and the cashier.

- Cashier: Good morning. How can I help you?
Customer: Good morning. I'd like to cash a cheque, please.
Cashier: Certainly. How would you like the money?
Customer: In tens and twenties, please.
Cashier: OK, here you are.
Customer: Thank you very much.

9 Work in pairs. Roleplay the dialogue from 8 again, but change the words in red. Use these ideas to help you.

Customer	Cashier
buy some euros	How many...?
transfer some money	... your name and account numbers? How much?
pay a bill	How much...? Who would you like to pay?
deposit these cheques	paying in slip

A: Good afternoon. I'd like to buy some euros, please.

B: Certainly. How many euros would you like?

A: I'd like 300 euros, please.

Foreign currency

- Speaking 1 Work in pairs and discuss these questions.
- Do you go abroad on holiday or on business? Which countries do you usually visit?
 - How many foreign currencies can you name?
- Listening 2  23 Listen to Sam Peterson talk about a business trip. Tick (✓) the countries he mentions.
- | Country | Currency |

- 3 Listen again. Write the currencies Sam mentions in the correct place in the table. Why doesn't he need any dollars?
- 4 Complete the table with the currencies for the countries Sam doesn't mention. Then add your own country and currency to the table. Can you add two more countries and their currencies?
- Speaking 5 Work in pairs. Take turns to quiz your partner about countries and currencies.
Example: What's the currency in China? Which country uses the yen?
- Listening 6  24 Sam goes to the foreign exchange counter at his bank to buy the currency he needs. Listen. What is the problem?
- 7 Listen again and answer these questions.
- 1 Which of the currencies does the bank have already?
 - 2 Which of the currencies does the bank not hold?
 - 3 What does the cashier offer to do?
 - 4 When does Sam leave on his trip?
 - 5 When can he collect his currency?

Reading 8 Read this article. Who is the advice for?

- a) Cashiers at foreign exchange counters.
- b) Bank employees who want to give their customers a better deal.
- c) People who want to buy foreign currency.

GET A BETTER DEAL

Most of us don't plan ahead when we go abroad. Of course it's possible to change your money at the airport before or after you fly, but airport exchange counters often charge more expensive rates. However, going to the bank won't always get you a better deal.

Some companies charge commission for doing foreign exchange transactions. In the UK, this is usually between £1.50 and £3.00. Commission usually comes in two forms:

1 A minimum charge
This can make it very expensive to change small amounts of money.

2 A flat fee
This is good if you change larger amounts of money:
the fee is the same no matter how much you are changing.

Beware of 'commission free' offers. These don't always provide better value for money. The currency seller usually makes up for the loss of commission with a higher exchange rate. Also look at the buy-back rate. Some companies offer to buy back any currency you have left for free. This means you don't pay a commission twice.

So how can you know which is the best deal? The answer is to ask how much of the currency you will get, after all charges, in exchange for your money. Find the company that will give you the most and you are ready to go.

9 Read the article in 8 again. Are these statements true (T) or false (F)?

- 1 Foreign exchange counters at airports are usually more expensive than at banks. (T / F)
- 2 A flat fee means that you can't change a small amount of money. (T / F)
- 3 Companies that offer 'commission free' usually have higher exchange rates. (T / F)
- 4 The text advises travellers to always look for a 'commission free' offer. (T / F)

Vocabulary 10 Find the words / phrases in the box in the text in 8. Underline them. Then match them to the definitions 1–4.

buy-back rate commission exchange rate minimum charge

- 1 A charge for doing a foreign exchange transaction: _____
- 2 An amount of money you pay to change money. The bank may charge more than this amount but you can't pay less than it: _____
- 3 The rate at which a company will buy back any currency from you: _____
- 4 The rate at which a company will buy or sell currency: _____

Asking questions

Language

Wh- question words

Wh- questions begin with a question word (e.g. when, where, why, how).

We use when to talk about time.	When can she collect the money?
We use what when we want to know about something (not a person).	What is the current interest rate?
We use where to ask about places.	Where is UBCS bank?
We use why to ask about the reason for something.	Why does she want euros?
We use who when we want to know about a person or some people.	Who is she speaking to?
Use which instead of who (for people) or instead of what (for things) when there is a limited set of possibilities to choose from.	Which customer is she speaking to? Which country does she like best?
We use how to ask about the way to do something.	How does she want the money?
We use how much / how many to ask about quantity.	How many euros does she want? How much money does she want?

1 Complete these questions with the correct question words.

- 1 _____ can I help you?
- 2 _____ can I speak to about a loan?
- 3 _____ can I start online banking?
- 4 _____ is the minimum charge for changing money?
- 5 _____ is the bank's head office?
- 6 _____ dollars would you like?

2 Match your answers 1–6 from 1 to these sentences a–f.

- a) _____ It's in Frankfurt.
- b) _____ You can speak to the manager. Let me find out if he's free.
- c) _____ As soon as you receive your user ID and password.
- d) _____ I'd like to open a current account, please.
- e) _____ Five hundred. In twenties, please.
- f) _____ It's £2.50.

Countable and uncountable nouns

Countable nouns can be singular or plural.

We can count them and we can use numbers and a / an with them.	a dollar → one dollar an appointment → ten appointments	How many dollars would you like? I have an important appointment this week.
---	--	--

Uncountable nouns are usually singular. We cannot count them and we do not usually use numbers or a / an with them (e.g. information, money, water, news, advice).

We use some with plural countable nouns.	We've got some bills to pay.
We use some with uncountable nouns in affirmative sentences.	She would like some water to drink.

3 Choose whether the nouns in italics are countable (C) or uncountable (U).

- 1 Could you give me some advice on buying shares, please? _____
- 2 How much commission do you charge for foreign exchange transactions? _____
- 3 Does the bank pay interest on this account? _____
- 4 I enjoy my job, but the work is sometimes difficult. _____

Investing money

Speaking

- 1 Look at these photographs. They show different ways of investing. Do you invest in any of these things? What other types of investments do you know? Work in pairs and discuss.

Reading

- 2 Read this text. Underline four things that people buy as investments.

INVESTING YOUR MONEY

Investment means using money to buy something (an asset) with the aim of making a profit by selling that asset at a higher price some time in the future. There are many different types of investments. Some people put their money in art, stamps, or collectibles. Other people invest in shares and become part owners of a company. Not only can they make a profit by selling those shares at a higher price than they paid for them, but they can receive a dividend – a share of the profits which the company gives to its shareholders every year. People often ask about the difference between savings and investments. Sometimes the two terms appear interchangeable, but there is a big difference. Quite simply, investment involves some kind of capital risk. There is no guarantee that you will make a profit. In fact, the price of your assets may fall and you may not even get back your capital, the money you put in. Some banks call their savings accounts ‘investment accounts’, but this is misleading. The only risk of savings accounts is that inflation will reduce the value of the money you put in them. There is no risk of losing your capital.

- 3 Read the text in 2 again. Are these statements true (T) or false (F)?

- 1 There is no difference between savings and investments. (T / F)
- 2 Buying art and buying shares are both types of investments. (T / F)
- 3 Investments involve more risk than savings. (T / F)
- 4 There are two ways in which shareholders can make money from their shares. (T / F)
- 5 Savings accounts involve no risk at all. (T / F)

Spreading the risk

Reading

- 1 Read this saying. What does it mean and how do you think it relates to investment?

Don't put all your eggs into one basket!

- 2 Read this article about investment portfolios from an investment website. What is the main aim of a portfolio?

The screenshot shows a computer screen with a web browser open. The title bar of the browser window contains icons for back, forward, search, and close. Below the title bar, the page has a light blue header with the text 'INVESTMENT PORTFOLIOS' in bold capital letters. The main content area of the page is also light blue and contains text about what a portfolio is, how it works, and its main goal of diversification. The right side of the browser window shows vertical scroll bars.

INVESTMENT PORTFOLIOS

A portfolio is a combination of different types of investments. It can include bank accounts, bonds, property, shares, mutual funds or any other type of investment. Investors use portfolios to minimise risk. They may lose money in one area, but can make a profit in another. Spreading risk by including many different types of investment in a portfolio is called diversification.

Many financial institutions, such as banks, offer a portfolio management service. Portfolio managers decide what assets to include in the portfolio – what to buy, how many to buy, when to buy and what to sell. Their decisions depend on the goals of the portfolio owner and the changing economic conditions. Each investor has his or her own financial needs, so no two portfolios are the same. The main goal of any portfolio is to put the investor's money in different places. This improves the chances of making a profit.

- 3 Read the article again. Complete these sentences with the words in the box.

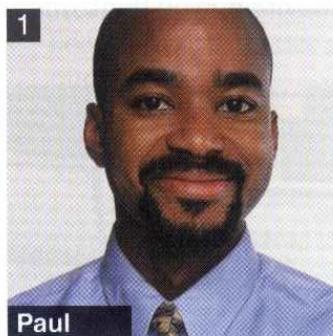

assets	chances	financial	goals	management

- 1 A portfolio combines different _____ of investments.
- 2 The aim of a portfolio is to minimise _____.
- 3 A bank may offer a portfolio _____ service to its customers.
- 4 Diversification is a way of _____ risk.
- 5 Portfolio managers choose _____ to include in the portfolio.
- 6 The _____ of the customer affect the decisions that the portfolio manager makes.
- 7 Investors all have different _____ needs.
- 8 The _____ of making a profit are improved if the investor's portfolio is diversified.

- 4 Are these statements true (T) or false (F) according to the article in 2?

- 1 A portfolio increases an investor's chances of making a profit. (T / F)
- 2 Portfolios only include limited types of investments. (T / F)
- 3 All the investments in a portfolio are likely to make the same amount of profit. (T / F)
- 4 Portfolio managers look at economic conditions when they make decisions about what assets to put in a portfolio. (T / F)
- 5 Most portfolios are very similar. (T / F)
- 6 Most investors have the same financial needs. (T / F)

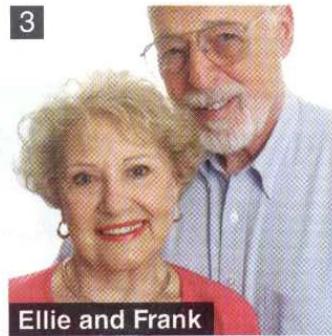

- 5 27 Read and listen to what these people say about their financial needs. Match the people 1–3 to a suitable portfolio.

Paul

Gemma

Ellie and Frank

I'm single. I have a good, well-paid job and I have a lot of money to invest. I'm interested in a high return on my money and I want to see my investments grow quickly.

I'm married with two children. I'm a teacher. I want to invest some of my money so I can pay for my children to go to university. They are still young, so I have plenty of time. Going to university is very expensive, but I worry about high-risk investments.

We are retired. We have some savings and would like some investments that will give us money for extras like holidays and presents for our grandchildren. We don't want to invest in shares because we worry that we may lose our capital if the share price falls.

Portfolio A

This portfolio is well diversified with a mixture of low and high-risk investments. The portfolio manager has bought shares in some good companies and he thinks these will increase in value gradually. There is, of course, no guarantee that the higher-risk investments in the portfolio will make a profit, but he believes they will increase over a ten-year period.

Portfolio B

This portfolio includes shares in several companies that produce new technology. If the companies do well, the rate of return will be very high. However, these investments are quite risky. Technology develops quickly, so the portfolio manager will soon see if she has made the right decision.

Portfolio C

This portfolio includes investments in a savings account that pays a good rate of interest. It also includes some government bonds. The portfolio manager put it together for investors who prefer a low-risk strategy, but need a steady income from their investments.

Speaking 6 How would you diversify a $100,000 investment? Write a sample portfolio.

7 Work in small groups and discuss your portfolio. Who has the best portfolio? Whose portfolio is the most diversified?

The stock market

Reading

- 1 What can you see in this photo? Where do you think this is and what do you think is happening?

- 2 Read this text. What is the difference between a stock exchange and a stock market index?

Stock markets

Every country has its own stock market, where people can buy and sell shares and other securities. A stock exchange is a building where this trading takes place. Some of these are very old – the London Stock Exchange started in the 17th century. However, a lot of share trading today is done by computer. This is much faster and cheaper.

Companies raise capital by selling their shares to investors on the stock market. They use the money to run their day-to-day business and to expand. Investors buy shares to make money. They hope to make a profit when the share price goes up. They also get money from dividends.

A stock market index is a way of measuring a section of a stock market. It is a list of some of the shares traded in the stock market. It shows the price of these shares at the end of each trading day and the number of shares bought and sold. Investors can look at the stock market indices in the newspaper. They can see how well or how badly their shares are doing.

Listening 1  29 Listen to two investment managers at UBCS and answer these questions.

- 1 What does Sarah want to talk to Robert about?
- 2 What day and time does Robert suggest for the meeting?
- 3 Why is this not a good time for Sarah?
- 4 What day and time do they agree on?

Reading 2 Read Sarah's email to Robert. Find and correct four mistakes.

The screenshot shows an email window with the following details:

To: Robert Daniels
Subject: Our meeting
From: Sarah Morgan

Dear Robert

This is to confirm that we are meeting at Thursday 16 June in three o'clock. The meeting is in Room 42 on the sixth floor. My boss joins us on 3.30 because she has some good ideas for diversifying the LDC portfolio. I'm looking forward to seeing you then.

All best wishes
Sarah

3 Read this dialogue. Why do Robert and Sarah arrange another meeting next week?

- Robert: LDC's portfolio is quite well diversified. They've got a lot of shares, but not many bonds.
- Sarah: Right. I think perhaps they have too many shares. That's a lot of risk and we can't guarantee them a good return. Bonds are safer, but of course the rate of return is lower. How about offering them more investments in property?
- Robert: That's a good idea. Let's ask Charles Simmons for some advice. He specialises in property. In fact, I'm seeing him at the weekend. We're playing golf on Sunday. I can ask him then.
- Sarah: Good idea. I'm meeting John Gilmore from LDC on the 25th of June. I can make some suggestions for new investments then.
- Robert: OK, let's meet early next week and I can tell you what Charles suggests. Is Monday afternoon any good for you?
- Sarah: No, I'm sorry. I'm giving a seminar for the new trainees at two o'clock. And I'm having dinner with Julian and Steve that evening. How about Tuesday morning?
- Robert: I'm free at 11 o'clock.
- Sarah: Fine. Let's make it Tuesday at 11 o'clock then.

Writing 4 Write sentences using the prompts.

Example: Robert is seeing Charles Simmons at the weekend.

- 1 Robert / see / Charles Simmons / weekend
- 2 Robert / play golf / Charles / Sunday
- 3 Sarah / meet John Gilmore / 25th June
- 4 Sarah / give seminar / new trainees / Monday two o'clock
- 5 Sarah / have dinner / Julian and Steve / Monday evening
- 6 Sarah and Robert / have a meeting / next Tuesday 11 o'clock

INTRODUCTION

Accountants produce financial statements. A financial statement is a written report with information about the financial activities of a company. It includes a balance sheet and a profit and loss statement.

- A balance sheet lists the company's assets (the things it owns), its liabilities (the things it owes) and its capital (money invested in the company).
- A profit and loss statement shows the company's income, expenses and profits or losses.

Accountants produce financial statements quarterly (every three months) or annually (every year) to show the financial position of a company and its performance over a period of time. This period of time is called the reporting period.

There are many different people who need this information. They could be shareholders, the directors of the company, government departments, employees, suppliers or customers. Investors can also look at this information and decide whether or not to buy shares in the company.

Vocabulary 6 Find a word or phrase from the information sheet in 5 with a similar meaning to 1–6.

ECONOMIC INDICATORS

Economists use economic indicators to analyse a country's economy. Economic indicators are statistics about the economy. They show how well the economy is doing and they enable economists to predict how well it will do in the future. The indicators include the stock market index, the retail price index (a measure of inflation), the unemployment rate, the number of people claiming benefits, new construction, industrial production, consumer spending and changes in the money supply. Leading economic indicators are indicators which change before the economy changes. The stock market is an example of a leading economic indicator. The stock market usually begins to decline before the economy declines and it generally improves before the economy begins to come out of a recession. Leading economic indicators are the most important type for investors as they help predict what the economy will be like in the future.

Listening 4 Listen and check your answers to the quiz in 3. Does any of the information surprise you?

Good news, bad news

- Reading 1 Read this briefing about news on the economy. Underline the expressions used to give positive and negative news.

We now have up-to-date information on the state of the economy. There is both positive and negative news to report. First, we are pleased to say that inflation is steady and retail prices show little change. We are glad to report that unemployment is down from 9% to 8.5%. However, I am afraid we do not expect much growth this year in the overall economy. Unfortunately, the high exchange rate is not helping our exports. However, we are optimistic that the balance of trade will remain steady.

- 2 Write the expressions you underlined in 1 under the correct heading.

Positive

Negative

Example: We are pleased to say that ...

- 3 Add these expressions under the correct heading in 2.

Fortunately, ... I am delighted to be able to tell you that ...

I'm sorry to have to report that ... I regret to say that ... Regrettably, ...

Sadly, ... The bad news is that ... The good news is that ...

A: OK, Ms Frick. Which details would you like to change?
E: My address and phone number.
A: OK. What's the new address?
E: It's 455 Loomis Street, Winchester.
A: Could you repeat that, please?
E: Yes, of course. 455 Loomis Street. That's L-O-O-M-I-S Street, Winchester SO13 5QZ.
A: Right. And the new phone number?
E: My new home number is 01962 829741.
A: OK. So that's 01962 829541.
E: No, 741.
A: OK. And your mobile phone number?
E: It's the same number as before – 0779589803.
A: OK. I'll change the information on your account straight away. Is there anything else I can do for you, Ms Frick?
E: No, that's everything for today. Thank you.
A: You're very welcome. Goodbye.

[E = Emilia; M = Martin]

E: Hello, Martin! Welcome to UBCS.
M: Thank you, Ms Olivieri. It's nice to meet you.
E: Please call me Emilia. Follow me and I'll show you around. OK, here we are. This is your office. You share it with Peter Dawson, Tasneem Patel and Marie Dubois. They're at a seminar today, but you can meet them tomorrow. This is your desk and there's your phone. There isn't a computer here yet, so you can use Peter's computer for today.

M: Right, OK.
E: There are some books on your desk for you to read. And the drinks machine is in the corner. Oh, there aren't any cups, but there are some in the kitchen next door. Now, then. We start work at 8.30 in the morning and we finish work at five o'clock. There is a break for lunch from 12.30 to 1.30 and there's a cafeteria on the second floor.

OK, now please help yourself to a drink, if you like. I'll meet you back here in a few minutes, then we can go through your programme for the day.

M: OK, thanks. I'll get a coffee and meet you back here.

E: Right. There is an introduction to the bank and its products and services for all new trainees at 10.00 in the boardroom. That's on the third floor. And then Maria Styles from Human Resources will ...

[N = Nabila; M = Martin]

N: Hello, you're new, aren't you?
M: Yes, I am.
N: Welcome to UBCS. My name's Nabila.
M: Pleased to meet you. I'm Martin.
N: So, do you like your new job?
M: I don't know yet. In fact, this is only my first day.
N: Oh, right, sorry! This is my first year.
I'm a cashier.
M: Oh, great! Maybe you can tell me more about being a cashier. What do you do every day?
N: Well, I come to work at 8.30. The bank opens at 9.00. I help customers deposit money and withdraw money from their accounts. Sometimes I answer questions about products and services. Other times I check balances for customers. Oh, and I also help my boss. He opens new accounts for customers and talks to them about investments. I give customers information about our interest rates and help them with forms, that sort of thing.

13

[M = Martin; N = Nabila]

M: So what time do you finish work?
N: Well, I usually finish at 5.00, but sometimes I stay late. I live near the bank so I always get home before 7.30.
M: Do you walk to work?
N: Sometimes I cycle, but usually I walk. How about you?
M: I always come by train.
N: What do you do at the weekend?
M: On Saturday, I often go shopping in the morning. I usually play football in the afternoon and then meet my friends in the evening. We sometimes go to the cinema or have dinner in a restaurant. How about you?
N: I often go out with my friends on Saturday evenings. But on Sundays I usually stay at home and watch TV. Do you watch TV?
M: No, I never watch TV.

 14

- 1 My name's Isabella. I'm responsible for opening new accounts at our bank. I give customers information about our interest rates and the accounts that we have.
- 2 I'm Raoul. I work in a bank and I help customers make deposits and withdrawals. I also handle any problems they have with their accounts.
- 3 Hi. My name's Ravi. I work for a bank, but I don't actually work in the bank. Customers telephone me when they have problems and complaints and I deal with their questions.
- 4 Hello! I'm Jenny. I take care of all the computers in the bank. I train employees how to use computers. I don't deal with customers.

 15

[A = Asif; M = Martin]

A: Hi, Martin! How's your new job?

M: Hi, Asif! It's great. It's hard work, but really interesting.

A: What time do you start?

M: The bank opens at 9.00, but I start work at 8.30. I leave my house at 6.30 to get there.

A: Wow. That's a long day.

M: Yes, it is. But I get quite a long break at lunchtime. And there's a cafeteria at the bank so I can eat my lunch there.

A: What exactly do you do all day?

M: Well, I'm a trainee at the moment, so I sit and learn from other employees. I'm sitting with a cashier in the banking hall this week. Her name is Nabila. She serves customers and helps them make deposits and withdrawals. She checks the balances of their accounts and answers their questions. She gives the customers information about the bank's interest rates and shows them how to complete forms to open new accounts.

A: So do you do any work or do you just watch other people work?

M: Well, I usually just watch and learn, but sometimes I put the money in the ATM.

A: Wow, you handled all that money? Still, I think it's more fun to take it out!

M: Yes, you're right!

Unit 3 Banking products and services

 16

[P = Peter; M = Marwan]

P: Marwan, could you help me go over this checklist for helping new customers, please?

M: Yes, of course.

P: So, this is what I've got. I can help customers open new accounts. A current account is for paying everyday bills and expenses. And a savings account is sometimes called a deposit account – is that right?

M: That's right. It's for savings – money the customer wants to put aside for the future.

P: And the bank pays the customer interest on a savings account?

M: Yes, that's right. You can tell customers that at the moment the interest rate for savings accounts is three percent.

P: OK, let's see. I can also offer new customers a debit card, show them how the ATM works and help them deposit and withdraw money. Is all that right?

M: Yes, but don't forget to offer them cheques as well. People in the UK and in the USA still use these a lot. Customers also often ask about online banking so they can do their banking from their computers at home.

P: Right. Those are good points, Marwan. Thanks. How about loans and mortgages? They might be interested in buying a new car or a flat.

M: Yes, you can tell them the interest rates on loans and mortgages.

P: Great. Thanks for your help.

M: You're welcome.

 17

[P = Peter; O = Mr Osman]

P: Good morning, Mr Osman. How can I help you today?

O: I'm interested in online banking. I'm very busy, so it's difficult to come into the bank all the time when I want to pay bills or check my balance.

P: I understand. Well, online banking is really easy and convenient. First, you need to register. You can do this online – just go to our website, click on 'online banking' and complete the form. We then send you a user ID and password. You can change the password at any time.

O: When do I need to use my user ID?

P: You need to type in this number to log on to your account. Most people change their password to something they can remember easily. It's important not to share your password with anyone – for security reasons.

O: OK, I understand. How long will it take to get my user ID and password?

P: Only a few days. As soon as you get this information, you can login and start banking online.

- O: Can I check my balance at any time?
 P: Yes, of course. You can check your balance, look at your account information, pay bills and do most of the other things you do now at the bank.
 O: That's great. Thanks for your help.
 P: You're very welcome. Please let me know if you need any other assistance.

18

[A = Mr Allen; H = Mr Haddad]

- A: Good morning. May I speak to Mr Haddad, please?
 H: Speaking.
 A: This is James Allen. I hold a savings account at your bank and I'm interested in some other investments, perhaps bonds or shares. Can I discuss this with you?
 H: Yes, of course. We offer a range of investment products, including bonds, and we can also help you buy shares.
 A: Do you give investment advice? I don't know very much about investments, I'm afraid.
 H: Yes, we offer an investment advice service. Could you come to the bank for a meeting?
 A: Yes, of course. When is convenient for you?
 H: How about next Wednesday at three o'clock? Can you do that?
 A: Yes, I can do Wednesday at three. Thank you very much,
 H: You're welcome. See you next Wednesday. Goodbye.
 A: Bye.

- 1 A: Good morning. How can I help you?
 B: Good morning. I would like to transfer some money from my current account to my savings account, please.
 A: Certainly, sir. How much money would you like to transfer?
 B: $500.
 A: Right. May I have your name and your account numbers, please?
 2 A: Hi, good morning. I'd like to pay these cheques into my current account, please.
 B: Certainly, madam. Could you complete this paying in slip, please?
 A: Oh, right. Is this OK?
 B: Yes, that's fine. Could you please sign it here?
 A: OK. Here you are.
 B: Thank you.

- 3 A: Good afternoon.
 B: Good afternoon. I'd like to cash this cheque, please.
 A: OK. How do you want the money?
 B: In tens and twenties, please.
 4 A: I'd like to order some currency, please.
 B: Certainly, sir. Which currency would you like?
 A: Well, I'm going to Spain, Italy and Turkey.
 B: I see. And how much do you need of each currency?
 A: I don't know. Probably about £500 in euros and $200 in Turkish currency. What is the currency in Turkey called?
 B: It's the Turkish lira. We have euros at the bank so I can give you those now, but I'll need to order the lira.
 A: OK. When can I collect it?
 B: If I order today, it should be here by Thursday morning.
 5 A: Good afternoon. Can I take your name and the first line of your address, please?
 B: Yes, it's Bill Watson and my address is 33 Rillington Street.
 A: OK, and the first and last letters of your password, please?
 B: B and S.
 A: Thank you, Mr Watson. How can I help you today?
 B: I'd like to pay £95.22 to Southern Electric.
 A: Fine. I can do that for you now. OK. That's all done for you. Your reference number is 057424.
 B: Thanks very much.
 A: Is there anything else I can help you with today?
 B: No, that's all, thanks.
 A: OK, have a lovely day, Mr Watson.
 B: Thanks. Bye.

Every year, I go to many different countries on business. Of course, I always need to buy currency to use in each place. I often go to Germany and France, so I buy euros. I also go to Japan and China – that's yen and yuan. And sometimes I go to the UAE, so I need dirhams. Oh, and I always get some pounds for the UK. I live in New York, so at least I don't have to get any dollars!

24

[C = Cashier; S = Sam]

C: Good morning, sir. How can I help you?

S: I'd like to buy some currency, please.

C: Certainly, sir. For which country?

S: A few actually. For France, Germany, the UAE, Japan, China and the UK.

C: I see. Well, we have euros and pounds here at the bank, but we don't hold any of the other currencies at the moment. I can order them for you, though. When do you leave?

S: Next Tuesday.

C: OK, I can get them by then. In fact, you could collect them on Friday. Would that be convenient for you?

S: Yes, that would be fine.

C: And how much of each currency would you like?

S: Well, let me see. That's five days in Germany and ...

25

[C = Cashier; S = Susanna]

C: Good morning. Can I help you?

S: Yes, I'd like to deposit this cheque into my current account.

C: OK. Do you have your paying in slip?

S: Yes, here you are.

C: Thank you. Could you just sign it here, please?

S: Sure. Here you are.

C: OK, that's all done for you. Can I help you with anything else today?

S: Yes, I'd like some American dollars, please.

C: And how many dollars would you like?

S: One hundred and fifty pounds' worth, please.

C: OK, that comes to $240. How would you like the money?

S: In tens and twenties, please.

C: I'm sorry, but I don't have any tens. I can do it all in twenties.

S: That's fine.

C: Right, here you are.

S: Thank you. Oh, and could you give me some information about insurance? How much do you charge for travel insurance?

C: My colleague, Peter, will be able to help you with insurance queries. Would you like to take a seat over there? He's serving another customer at the moment, but I can ask him to come over and give you all the information you need.

S: OK, great. Thanks.

C: You're welcome.

Unit 5 Investment

26

I'd like to talk about three basic investment options. First, you can buy shares. You then become a shareholder, that is – part owner of a company. When the company makes a profit, the shareholders get a share of that profit. This payment is called a dividend. The price of shares can go up or down, so there is no guarantee you can make a profit when you sell your shares. However, share prices can rise a lot, so you can make a lot of money. Bonds are another type of investment. When you buy a bond, you are lending your money to a company, or sometimes to a government. In return, they agree to pay you a fixed rate of interest on your money. In addition, you get your capital back on a certain date in the future. This is called the date when the bond matures. There is little risk here, but the returns are quite low. Finally, you can invest in a mutual fund. This is a collection of shares and bonds.

You put your money together with money from other investors. It is sometimes called an 'open-end fund' because new investors can join the fund at any time. You pay a financial professional, a fund manager, to handle your investment. The fund manager decides what shares and bonds to buy and sell. There isn't a predictable rate of return. Your earnings change from day to day.

- 1 I'm single. I have a good, well-paid job and I have a lot of money to invest. I'm interested in a high return on my money and I want to see my investments grow quickly.
- 2 I'm married with two children. I'm a teacher. I want to invest some of my money so I can pay for my children to go to university. They are still young, so I have plenty of time. Going to university is very expensive, but I worry about high-risk investments.
- 3 We are retired. We have some savings and would like some investments that will give us money for extras like holidays and presents for our grandchildren. We don't want to invest in shares because we worry that we may lose our capital if the share price falls.

28

[B = Ben; S = Sue]

- B: Hi, Sue. How are you?
S: Great, thanks.
B: You're going on vacation soon, aren't you?
S: Yes. I'm going to Spain next week.
B: Lucky you! When are you flying?
S: I'm flying on Wednesday.
B: In the morning or in the afternoon?
S: At five o'clock in the morning.
B: That's early! Are you driving to the airport?
S: No, I'm taking a taxi. It's coming to pick me up at three o'clock!
B: And what time are you arriving in Spain?
S: At lunchtime. Paolo and Pilar are meeting me at the airport and taking me to their house.
B: Is Jim going with you?
S: Yes, but he's meeting an important customer on Thursday so he can't fly with me on Wednesday. He's joining me at the weekend. What about you? Are you taking a vacation this summer?
B: I don't know yet. Maybe next month.

29

[R = Robert; S = Sarah]

- R: Hello, UBCS. Robert Daniels speaking.
S: Hello, Robert. It's Sarah, Sarah Morgan.
R: Oh, hi, Sarah.

S: I'm ringing to see if we can meet some time this week. We need to discuss LDC Ltd's portfolio.

R: Yes, that's a good idea. Let's see ... I'm free on Thursday at 2 pm. Is that a convenient time for you?

S: Oh, no. I'm sorry. I'm having lunch with my boss on Thursday at one o'clock. We're discussing ways to attract new customers. I don't think I'll be free till at least 2.30.

R: Well, how about three o'clock, then?

S: Yes, that's fine. I'll book the meeting room and then email you to confirm later this afternoon.

R: Great, thanks very much, Sarah. Bye.

S: Goodbye.

Unit 6 A career in accountancy

30

[B = Bob; C = Callum]

- B: Hi, Callum. I don't see you at the gym much these days!
C: Hi, Bob. No, I don't have a lot of time. I'm studying for my accountancy exams.
B: You're going to be an accountant? I don't believe it!
C: Why is that surprising? Accountancy is a great career.
B: Isn't it a bit ... boring – all facts and figures?
C: Not at all! It's fascinating. And it's not just about numbers, it's about communication.
B: Communication?
C: Yes. Accountants communicate financial information about a business to all the people who need to know, like shareholders, directors, investors ... I'm going to get my qualification in September and then I will have lots of options. I will be able to travel.
B: To travel?
C: Yes, there are jobs for accountants all over the world. I'm going to go to Australia or Asia.
B: Wow. That sounds exciting.
C: What about you, Bob? What are you doing these days?
B: Well, I don't have a job at the moment. I'm going to get married next year, so I'm looking for a new job now.
C: What about accountancy?
B: Well, the way you describe it, it does sound interesting.
C: I'll give you some information about the course I'm on.
B: Thanks, Callum. That's very kind of you. Are you going home now?
C: Yes.

- B: I'll give you a lift. Then I can pick up the information on your course.
- C: OK. I'll just phone Karen to say that we're on our way.
- B: Great. I'll go and get the car.

▶ 31

- 1 A: What is your job?
 B: I'm a bookkeeper in a small electronics company. I am responsible for keeping records of sales and purchases. I enter every transaction into a ledger. A ledger is like a book. One is for sales and one is for purchases.
- 2 A: Could you tell me what you do, please?
 B: Yes, I'm a budget analyst.
 A: What does that involve?
 B: Well the company has a budget – that's a sort of financial plan for the amount of money it wants to spend on things, things like salaries and materials. I help set the budget and then I monitor it. I check that the company isn't spending too much on one thing, or too little on another.
- 3 A: Can you tell me what your job is, please?
 B: I'm an external auditor.
 A: Yes, but what do you actually do?
 B: Well, I work for an accountancy firm. I visit companies and I check the financial statements prepared by the companies' accountants.
 A: So you don't work for the company itself?
 B: No, I work for a firm of accountants. The company is our client.
- 4 A: Could you tell me what your job is, please?
 B: I'm a financial controller. I work for a manufacturing company and I am responsible for the day-to-day financial activities of the company. I monitor the performance of each department and I check the financial statements that the company's accountants produce. I keep the management informed about the state of the company's finances.
- 5 A: What do you do?
 B: I'm a tax adviser. I'm a specialist in tax regulations. I prepare corporate tax returns for companies and income tax returns for individuals – those are the tax statements that they have to submit to the government. I work out how much tax they have to pay and sometimes I can show them ways to reduce the amounts of tax they pay.

▶ 32

- 1 A: Do you set a budget for your spending?
 B: Yes, I do. I decide each month how much I can spend on entertainment – eating out, going to the cinema, that sort of thing.
- 2 A: Are you good at keeping within your budget?
 B: Well, I try to keep within my budget, but sometimes if there is something special, like a dinner that I really want to go to, I spend a bit more than I planned.
- 3 A: How do you keep track of your spending?
 B: I put all my receipts in my desk drawer and at the end of the month, I enter the amounts in a spreadsheet on my computer. I enter the information under general headings, like travel, food, entertainment, clothes, etc. Then I can see how much I spend each month on these things.
- 4 A: Do you prepare your own tax returns?
 B: No, I don't. I employ an accountant to do that.
- 5 A: Do you monitor the stock market?
 B: Yes, I do. I have a portfolio of shares so I monitor their performance. Some of my shares are in companies in developing countries. These investments are quite risky, so I also monitor the political situation in these countries carefully.
- 6 A: Do you check your bank statements?
 B: Yes, I do. I also check my credit card statements very carefully.

▶ 33

- [C = Callum; B = Bob]
- C: Hello? Callum MacDonald speaking.
- B: Callum, it's Bob.
- C: Hi, Bob. What's up?
- B: I'm calling to thank you very much for the information on the accountancy course.
- C: Oh, you're welcome. Are you interested?
- B: Yes, I am. In fact, I'm going to apply for it. The next course is going to start in August.
- C: That's great. I think you will love it – you're good with figures, patient, organised, efficient ...
- B: Stop it, Callum. You're joking!
- C: No, seriously, I think you will be a great accountant. I know the course tutor quite well. I'm going to have a meeting with him tomorrow, so I'll tell him about you.
- B: That's really kind. Thank you.

Unit 7 An accountant's life

34

[T = Tamsin; G = George]

- T: Hi George. Welcome back. How was the conference? Were the speakers good?
- G: It was an excellent conference. There were lots of good people and the presentations were all very interesting. My old friend Tom Watson was there, too.
- T: Tom Watson?
- G: Yes, you know Tom. He's a tax adviser at Collins and Mudie. He was there with some of his colleagues. And that man who is a specialist in budget analysis, Steve something?
- T: Steve Allbright?
- G: Yes, that's right. He was there. His presentation was fascinating.
- T: So, no problems, then?
- G: Not with the conference. That was fine. But the hotel was awful. The bedrooms were horrible. They were small and dark, and there wasn't any hot water in the bathrooms. The food was revolting, too. And there was a lot of noise at night. The lifts were very noisy and the hotel was next to a busy road. I won't stay there again!
- T: Oh dear!

35

- 1 Five times one-hundred and fifty equals seven hundred and fifty.
- 2 Two thousand, two hundred and fifty divided by three equals seven hundred and fifty.
- 3 One hundred and forty-five plus six hundred and five equals seven hundred and fifty.
- 4 Ten percent of seven thousand five hundred is seven hundred and fifty.
- 5 Seven hundred and eighty minus thirty is seven hundred and fifty.
- 6 One added to seven hundred and forty-nine is seven hundred and fifty.

36

- one billion two hundred and thirty-four million five hundred and sixty-seven thousand eight hundred and ninety
- five hundred and eighty thousand six hundred and seventy-seven
- two billion five hundred and eighty-seven million four hundred and fifty-three thousand two hundred and one

37

[G = George; T = Tamsin]

- G: Were you busy while I was at the conference, Tamsin?

T: Yes, I was quite busy.

G: Did you call Bill Mudie?

T: Yes, I did. I called him and arranged the meeting for Friday at 3 pm in the boardroom. I ordered coffee and biscuits for 3.30.

G: That's great. Thank you for that. What about the letters in my correspondence file?

T: Yes, I printed them out. They're all on your desk.

G: Fantastic. Did you prepare Mr Sweetman's tax return?

T: Yes, I did. I finished it yesterday. And I emailed Mrs Kato to say that we will send her tax return on Monday.

G: Thank you. She will be very pleased. Did you check the calculations on the Costmore cash flow?

T: No, I'm sorry, I didn't have time. I'll do them today.

G: OK. And the Copsey financial statements?

T: Yes, I helped Nigel with those. He's going to show them to you this afternoon.

G: And LMC. Did you enter the figures in their profit and loss statement?

T: I entered some of them, but I didn't finish them. I'll do them now.

G: Thanks, Tamsin.

[G = George; T = Mrs Taylor]

G: Hello, is that Mrs Taylor?

T: Speaking.

G: This is George Johnson from Monroe and Maplin. I'm calling about your tax return. We need some more information in order to complete it.

T: Oh, right. What do you need?

G: Well, you sent us details of your income and business expenses. They arrived last week. But as you work from home, you can claim a 'business use of home' charge. This will reduce the amount of tax you pay.

T: That sounds good. What exactly do you need? G: We need details of your household expenses, so that's your gas and electricity bills and records of your mortgage payments. And also can you let us know the number of rooms in your house, the number of rooms that you use for business and the number of hours per week that they are used for business?

T: OK, I can do that. I'll send the information this afternoon.

G: That's great. Then I can finish the calculations and let you know how much tax to pay.

T: Thanks very much.

G: You're welcome. Goodbye.

T: Goodbye.

[I = Interviewer; F = Fernanda]

- I: On the programme today we have Maria Fernanda, economic analyst at UBCS International. Welcome to the programme, Maria.
- F: Thank you.
- I: Now, is it good news or bad news for the economy?
- F: Well, I'm generally positive about the economy. I predict that it will grow in the next quarter, perhaps by as much as 3.5%.
- I: Really?
- F: Yes, the stock market is doing well and I believe it will continue to do well over the next 12 months. I predict a rise of around 25%.
- I: What about interest rates?
- F: Interest rates are declining at the moment. I predict that this decline will continue and that they will fall to around 4.75%, possibly as early as next month.
- I: I see. And what about the rate of unemployment? With the growth in the economy, can we expect more people to find work in the near future?
- F: I'm not very optimistic about growth in that area. I think the unemployment rate will probably remain steady for the next six months.
- I: Does that mean consumer spending will also remain steady?
- F: No, I think there is more confidence in the economy and after the summer consumer spending will increase.
- I: And what about the price of oil?
- F: Well, that is more difficult to predict. It's always a question of supply and demand. We are monitoring the political situation in the oil-producing countries very carefully. Over the coming year, I think the price of oil will fluctuate quite a lot.
- I: So that's some good news and some bad news for the economy. Thank you very much, Maria.
- F: You're welcome.

[A = Adil; S = Simon]

- A: Simon, you work at the Bank of England's museum. I didn't even know the Bank of England had a museum!
- S: Oh, yes, it does. There are many surprising things about the Bank of England. The museum is great. You can see old banknotes and you can even try to lift a gold bar!
- A: OK, well you should know the answers to this quiz, then.
- S: Let's have a look. Right. Question one is easy. It was founded in 1694 as a bank for the government.
- A: OK. I think even I know the answer to the next one. It's 'c', isn't it. The Old Lady of Threadneedle Street.
- S: Yep, that's right. Threadneedle Street is the bank's address.
- A: Why 'Old Lady'?
- S: I have no idea! Anyway, the answer to question three is 'true'. The Bank of England does store gold for other countries.
- A: I didn't know that.
- S: It's true. And number four is 'a'. $1,000 is the highest denomination banknote ever issued by the bank.
- A: What about number five. That isn't true, is it?
- S: Actually it is true. Banknotes were entirely handwritten until 1725 when the bank started printing them. But they were still signed individually by one of the cashiers until 1853.
- A: Amazing! And what about number six. This is a joke, isn't it?
- S: No, it isn't. It's absolutely true. The man was a sewer worker and he wrote to the directors and offered to meet them at a time of their choice in the gold vaults – which he then did.
- A: But why didn't he just steal the gold?
- S: He was a very honest man. And the directors of the bank gave him £800 as a reward for his honesty.
- A: I see. That was a lot of money then.
- S: It's a lot of money now, but not as much as the price of one gold bar.
- A: That's question seven isn't it? OK how much is one gold bar worth?
- S: Well, of course, the price fluctuates a lot, but at the moment it's about $200,000.
- A: OK, number eight. True or false?
- S: Ah, now that one is false. Actually the Bank of England started to set the official interest rate in 1997.
- A: That's quite late. Who did it before that?

S: The government.

A: What about number nine?

S: That's false, too. The Bank of England will replace a damaged note, no matter what the cause.

A: What if it got wet?

S: Well, there has to be evidence of at least half the note and it helps if the serial number is still there.

A: OK and finally, the old and damaged notes. How does the bank destroy them?

S: This is a trick question. In fact, both these answers are correct. They burn about half the notes and the other half are turned into compost. Farmers use it to improve their soil.

A: Now I've heard it all! Many thanks, Simon.

S: You're welcome!

English for Banking & Finance is part of the Pearson Longman Vocational English series. It is designed for students in vocational education and for company employees in training at work. Written by industry practitioners, it combines a strong grammar syllabus with the specialist vocabulary and skills that learners need to succeed in their chosen field.

Level 1 English for Banking and Finance is designed for students with a basic knowledge of general English who now require an elementary (CEF level A1–A2) English course in this specific field. It includes:

- topics that reflect the latest developments in banking and finance, making them immediately relevant to students' needs
- clearly defined language and function objectives which are backed up by comprehensive on-the-page language boxes
- essential online support for teachers including teacher's notes, fully editable tests and multi-lingual glossaries
- student CD-ROM with interactive glossaries in both British and American English and full course book audio in MP3 format

Other titles in the series include:

English for Information Technology

English for Nursing

English for the Oil Industry
