Introduction

What is Oxford Word Skills?

Oxford Word Skills is a series of three books for students to learn and practise new vocabulary.

There are over 2,000 new words or phrases in each level, and all of the material can be used in the classroom or for self-study.

How are the books organized?

Each level contains 100 units of vocabulary presentation and practice, with a unit being 1–2 pages, depending on the size of the topic. New vocabulary is presented in manageable chunks, then immediately followed up with practice exercises, usually on the same page.

The units are grouped within modules containing 3–10 units. A majority of the modules are topic-based, e.g. People, Food and drink, Study and work, but some modules have a language focus, e.g. Prepositions, Adjectives and adverbs, Verbs.

The Elementary level also contains:

- a list of all the 'spotlight' boxes
- a list of word-building tables
- a list of irregular verbs
- an answer key for all the exercises
- Word list – an index of all the vocabulary taught with a unit reference to where the item appears

Oxford Word Skills is directly linked to the Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary app, which allows learners to find the meaning of new words in English and provides a pronunciation model for the words. You will find pronunciation exercises throughout the book which refer you to the  to check the correct pronunciation.

What vocabulary is included?

At Elementary level, the vocabulary includes:

- a wide range of common topics, e.g. clothes, free time, at the airport
- words and phrases needed in social interaction, e.g. inviting people, meeting and greeting
- areas of lexical grammar, e.g. prepositions, verbs, adjectives and adverbs

Throughout the three levels the main focus is on high-frequency vocabulary in everyday spoken English, although the higher levels increasingly add more language from different styles of English as well as more figurative use of language.

The selection of vocabulary at each level is based on frequency and usefulness, with the foundation being the Oxford 3000™. This is a list of 3000 words identified by the Oxford University Press ELT Dictionaries team as the most important words for learners of English.

These items have been divided into four levels in accordance with the CEFR levels (A1, A2, B1 and B2).

- The Elementary level includes many items from A1, but with the majority of items at A2 level.
- The Intermediate level has a focus on B1 items from the Oxford 3000, as well as recycling some items from the A2 level.
- The Upper-Intermediate/Advanced level concentrates on B2 items from the Oxford 3000, but also includes B2 and C1 items from the enlarged Oxford 5000™ word list.

The Oxford 3000 word list is supplemented by the Oxford Phrase List™, containing just under 1,000 phrases considered important for students at these levels; and topic lists from OUP's learner's dictionaries, which identify key vocabulary items across a range of 60 topics. By using the Oxford 3000 alongside the topic lists, we are able to focus on high-frequency vocabulary, but also to include vocabulary items that may not have a high frequency overall, but will have great value in particular contexts, e.g. main course in a restaurant, or hand luggage at an airport. By using the Oxford Phrase List, we are also able to ensure the best coverage of both words and phrases at each level.

We have taken great care to ensure that learners will be able to understand the meaning of all the new words and phrases by supplying a clear illustration, a simple definition, or an example of each word or phrase. Learners should be aware that many English words have more than one meaning. They should refer to the Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary for information on other meanings.

In the Elementary level, there is also a list at the back of the book of all the A1 items from the Oxford 3000 that have not been taught. The reason for this is that the Elementary level makes some assumptions about very high frequency level items which learners should already be familiar with. If there are words here that students do not know, they can go to the  to check the meaning and pronunciation.

Key words are sometimes repeated in later units in the book, but may not be highlighted in bold. If students do not recognize the word, they should look in the Word List to see where the item was introduced and defined, or use the . Such recycling is useful for learners.

To the teacher

How can I use the material in the classroom?

New vocabulary is presented through:

- photographs and illustrations

- tables

on	a day	a date
	on Tuesday	on September 10
	on Friday evening	on 6 th May on Tuesdays = every Tuesday on my birthday on Christmas Day

- different types of text

GLOSSARY

each other She likes me and I like her.
= We like each other.

get on (well) with sb have a good relationship with sb personality what a person is like that makes them different from other people meet pt met 1 see and speak to sb for the first time 2 go to a place and wait for sb:

We're meeting them at 7.30.

flatmate a person you live with, but not in a romantic relationship advice [U] an opinion or information that you give to help sb with a problem give (sb) advice

see sb talk to or visit sb

Visuals obviously provide a clear guide to meaning; the tables and texts show words being used in natural sentences, with the meaning explained in a glossary (within a table or beside a text). As the input in most sections occupies a page and does not usually exceed 15 items, it is very straightforward to use in the classroom. Here is a procedure you could follow:

- Students study the visuals or written text in the presentation for at least ten minutes. This allows time for them to reinforce the connection between the visual input and the meanings, or to read through the glossary carefully to check the meaning of the new items in the presentation sentences, dialogue or extended text. Tell students to look at the extra words included in the glossary (opposites, synonyms, derivatives, collocations and further examples) as this will help them to expand their vocabulary with minimal effort in many cases. It is also important to look at the spotlight boxes. This is an additional feature which picks out an item or items of particular value, for example, these spotlights on else and on the difference between flat, house and home:

SPOTLIGHT else

You can use else to mean 'different' after words like everyone, somewhere and nothing.

- I didn't like it, but everyone else did. (= all the other people)
- The restaurant was full so we went somewhere else. (= to another place)
- We had bread because there was nothing else to eat. (= no other thing)

SPOTLIGHT flat, house, home

A flat is a number of rooms on one floor of a building.

SYN apartment

A house is a building that is made for people to live in. It can have more than one floor.

Home is where you live (in a flat or a house).

- While students are working through the presentation, you can answer any questions they may have about the items. This is also an opportunity to provide a pronunciation model for your students to repeat; otherwise the presentation stage is going to be a long silent phase. You might want to read a text aloud, or get students to read sections of it, etc.
- Students can move on to the first exercise, which they can check for themselves using the Answer Key, or you can go over the answers with the whole class. This is probably a better approach as you can also discuss why they might have arrived at a wrong answer and focus on / practise pronunciation. It is sensible to work through the exercises chronologically as they tend to progress from receptive practice to controlled productive practice, and then quite often to freer productive practice in the ABOUT YOU / ABOUT YOUR COUNTRY activities.
- When you are satisfied with their answers to the first exercise, you can ask students to go on to further exercises, while you monitor them as they work individually or in pairs, and assist where necessary. When they have finished an exercise, you will find that many of them – sentence completion and particularly dialogue completion – lend themselves to controlled speaking practice. Students can practise dialogues in pairs or take it in turns to read out complete sentences to each other.
- Students should look out for the  TEST YOURSELF icons in each unit. When they have completed the written exercises, students can test themselves on the new vocabulary. The material has been designed so that students can cover the new words beneath a picture (using a book, notebook or piece of paper) while they look at the visuals and test themselves. They can do the same with some of the tables and glossaries: cover the new vocabulary and look at the meaning, or vice versa. This is a simple, quick and easy way for learners to test themselves over and over again, so there is no pressure on you to keep searching for different exercises. It is also useful to demonstrate this so that students can revise vocabulary in their own time using this 'cover and check' approach.
- You will often notice the headings ABOUT YOU or ABOUT YOUR COUNTRY. These are personalized exercises which give learners an opportunity to use the new vocabulary in a freer way, and within the context of their own lives. Students can write answers to these, but they make ideal pairwork activities for learners to practise their spoken English while using the new vocabulary. If you use these as speaking activities, students could then write their answers (or their partner's answers) as follow-up. In the Answer Key, possible answers for these activities are provided by both native speakers and proficient non-native speakers from different parts of the world. This may be of particular value to a self-study learner, as a way of comparing answers.

TEST YOURSELF How can students use the material on their own?

The material has been designed so that it can be used effectively both in the classroom or by learners working alone. If you want your learners to use the material for self-study, you can recommend that they use the book alongside the app, as it gives them a pronunciation model for items of vocabulary, as well as further practice exercises. For self-study learners in particular, it is also a good idea to start with the first module, which will help them use the book more effectively. Self-study learners can check their answers to exercises using the Answer Key, and test themselves using the 'cover and check' procedure explained above. One advantage of self-study learning is that students can select the topics that interest them, or the topics where they most need to expand their knowledge. In addition, they have the opportunity with this book to test themselves, as explained above.

4 ABOUT YOU AND YOUR COUNTRY Write your answers to the questions in Exercise 3, or ask another student.

B Exams

When I was at school, I went to all the lessons and did my homework, but I didn't work very hard. So, when I took exams at 16, my results weren't fantastic. I passed six, which was good, but I failed physics. It was my worst result— I got a grade F, which was terrible. After that, I went to a college where I worked hard and did well. I passed all my exams at 18 and went to university. That's where I am now.

Seth

79 Compound nouns

A What are compound nouns?

This is common in English: word + word = new word. For example:

police + officer = police officer phone + number = phone number bath + room = bathroom art + gallery = art gallery

- We write some compound nouns as one word, e.g. bathroom, but many are two words, e.g. phone number.
- Many compound nouns are easy to understand when you know the other words, e.g. railway station, address book, first floor, dining room, bus stop, dishwasher. Sometimes they are less easy to understand, e.g. a disc jockey (usually called a DJ) is a person who plays music on the radio and in clubs.
- You will meet many compound nouns as you learn English: past tense; past participle; phrasal verb (see Unit 99); capital letter, e.g. ABC; full stop (at the end of a sentence); question mark = ?
- With compound nouns, the main stress is usually on the first word, e.g. phone number, but sometimes it is on the second word, e.g. full stop.

1 Underline the main stress on these compound words. Use the APP to help you. Practise saying the words.

- ▶ art gallery ▶ full stop bathroom railway station first floor address book bus stop phone number dishwasher capital letter police officer

2 What do we call these places or things? Use a compound noun to label each picture.

 - 4 If it's a question, don't forget the question
 - 5 What's the past and past of forget?
 ~ That's easy. Forgot and forgotten.

- 6 My parents live on the first of the building.
- 7 I waited at the bus for about twenty minutes.
- 8 Get on and get off are both verbs.
- 9 You have to put a stop at the end of the sentence.
- 10 A new sentence always begins with a letter.

B In the town centre

... just after the traffic lights, we found a car park. Millie went to the sports centre to use the swimming pool, while Dan and I went to the department store in the new shopping centre to look at washing machines. We didn't buy one, but we had a very helpful sales assistant. After that, I did some shopping in the high street, and Dan went to the ticket office at the theatre. We came home after that, but Millie stayed and came back on public transport.

B Introducing a surprising idea

These words link two ideas when the second idea is surprising after the first idea.

Word	Example	Meaning
but	We had sunny weather, but it was quite cold. He worked hard, but he didn't pass the exam.	links two ideas, usually in one sentence. Sometimes there is a comma (,) with a longer sentence.
however	We had sunny weather. However, it was quite cold. He worked hard. However, he didn't pass the exam.	links two ideas, usually in two different sentences. There is a comma after however . However is more formal than but .
although/though	Although we had sunny weather, it was quite cold, especially in the morning. He worked hard, although he didn't pass the exam. I went to the party. I was quite tired, though.	(the second part sounds like go) links two ideas in one sentence. Although often goes at the beginning of the sentence, but can go in the middle, after a comma. In spoken English, you often use though .

SPOTLIGHT still

You can use still to make the second idea a bigger surprise:

- We had sunny weather, but it was still quite cold in the evenings.
- He worked hard. However, he still didn't pass the exam.

4 Rewrite the sentences using the link word in CAPITALS.

- ▶ The exam was easy. I didn't pass. HOWEVER The exam was easy. However, I didn't pass.
- 1 He went to bed late. He couldn't sleep. BUT
- 2 People don't like her very much. She's very kind. HOWEVER
- 3 The food was terrible. The service was good. ALTHOUGH
- 4 It was snowing. We decided to go out. BUT/STILL
- 5 We lost our dog. We found it after an hour. HOWEVER
- 6 I wore a coat. I was cold. ALTHOUGH/STILL
- 7 I watched the whole programme. I didn't enjoy it. THOUGH
- 8 We had a big lunch. Jason was hungry. HOWEVER/STILL

5 Make six sentences or pairs of sentences from the table using but or however.

▶ I didn't feel well. ✓		I only had to wait five minutes.
I was really hungry,		I stayed at work to finish the job.
I was last in the queue.		someone lent me a jacket.
I was very cold.	but	I had to wait until 10.00 for dinner.
I was very frightened,	However,	someone held my hand.
I was late for the party.		I was fine the next day. ✓
I was really tired.		everybody was still there.

- ▶ I didn't feel well. However, I was fine the next day.

6 Complete the sentences in a way that makes sense.

- ▶ I took my umbrella but it didn't rain.
- 1 Everyone says it's a great film, though
- 2 Although it was raining,
- 3 The dog looked dangerous but

A Reason and result

Why did you go into the café?

Link word before the reason:

because + clause	I went into the café because it was raining.
because of + noun	I went into the café because of the rain.
(in order) to + verb In order to is more formal than to.	I went into the café (in order) to get out of the rain.

Link word before the result:

so + clause = because of this	It was raining, so I went into the café. = 'I went in the café' is the result of the rain.
as a result + clause = because of this As a result can also start a new sentence.	I went to bed very late, and as a result I was tired the next morning. The others had a map but I didn't. As a result, I was the last person to arrive.

99 Phrasal verbs

A Meaning

Most phrasal verbs are very common in spoken English. They have a verb (sit, stand, get, etc.) and a particle (up, on, off, etc.). Sometimes, the meaning of the two parts is easy to understand.

sit down

stand up

lie down fall over

Sometimes the two parts form a new meaning.

Phrasal verb	Example	Meaning
give sth up	He had to give up football.	stop doing something look sth up	I had to look up the meaning.	try to find information in a book or on the internet take off	The plane couldn't take off.	leave the ground and start flying grow up	When Ben grows up, he wants to be a doctor.	slowly change from a child to an adult find sth out	I must find out the times of the trains to Southampton.	find a fact or piece of information you need or want go out	Let's go out this evening.	leave your home to do a social activity, e.g. go to a cinema, a club, etc.

1 Underline the correct particle.

- ▶ I'd like to lie up / down for a minute.
- 1 Can we find out / over how much it costs?
- 2 Where did she grow out / up?
- 3 He fell over / off when he left the house.
- 4 Do you want to go out / off tonight?
- 5 Pepe wants to give on / up his job.
- 6 Look it out / up in your dictionary.
- 7 The plane couldn't take off / up.

B Grammar

Some phrasal verbs never have an object.

Phrasal verb	Example	Meaning
go up	The price of petrol will go up soon.	↑ increase, become more OPP go down ↓ carry on (with sth)	Can we carry on with the exercise?	continue with something go back	She wants to go back to London.	return to a place
wake up	I always wake up at 7.00 a.m.	stop sleeping go away	Go away! I'm working.	leave a person or a place

Other phrasal verbs need an object. In the following verbs, the object can go before or after the particle.

Take off your jacket.

Take your jacket off.

Could you turn on the light?

Could you turn the light on?

Put on your shoes.

Put your shoes on.

When the object is a pronoun (it, them, etc.) it must go before the particle.

Take it off. (NOT ~~Take off it.~~)

Put them on. (NOT ~~Put on them.~~)

4 Change the underlined noun to it or them, and put it in the correct place.

- | | |

6 a possible answer, from Poland:
The phrases we use in Polish for answering the phone are quite different. We have a special word for hello on the phone: halo. Instead of Speaking, we say Slucham, which means literally 'I'm listening', and we use Mówi Marisa ('Marisa is speaking') for It's Marisa. When we ask for someone, we can say either Czy to Marisa? (which is basically the same as in English) or Czy zastałam/zastałem Marisę? (literally, 'Have I got hold of Marisa?').
